Carmel Mourns Passing Of Three Beloved Citizens

Mrs. Edson, Mrs. Acheson and Frank Ballam Die After Lingering Illnesses; Many Carmel Friends
Grieve Their Passing

Katherine Philips Edson

The passing of Katherine Philips Edson brought sadness to many Carmel people, Mrs. Edson having spent a great deal of her time in this city before her illness, at her home at First and Dolores.

Mrs. Edson died at the home of a son in Pasadena, Sunday at the age of 63. She had been ill for several months.

The deceased was one of the leaders in the suffragist movement and was always active in political circles. She served on the state industrial welfare committee from 1911 to 1930, losing her position under Governor Rolph.

Mrs. Edson was at one time president of the Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters and a national director of the organization.

Frank Ballam Succumbs

After an illness of about ten months, Frank Ballam, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ballam, passed away at the hospital yesterday.

Frank was stricken with diphtheria early in the year and never regained his strength. As soon as he was able to be moved his mother took him to Carmel Valley hoping that he might recuperate.

Last week he was taken to a hospital undergoing an operation from which he did not recover.

Frank was a popular boy among his young friends and among the older people. He was a member of the choir of All Saints' Episcopal church before his illness and took active part in all affairs at Sunset school. Although he was born in Oakland, he had lived most of his life in Carmel.

His parents, a sister and two brothers, Joy, Edward and Fred, survive.

Mrs. Evans W. Acheson

The many friends of the family are mourning the passing of Mrs. Alvera B. Acheson, who died Sunday following a two months' illness from heart trouble. Mrs. Acheson was thought for a while to be improving, but complications made recovery impossible.

Mrs. Acheson was a very prominent member of the Community Church Guild and the Old Mission Guild and was well loved by all who knew her. Her pall bearers were chosen from among her close friends.

Mr. Acheson is office manager for the Western Union in this city and he and his wife had lived here for the past six years. Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bennett of Johnstown Pa.; a brother, Ralph Bennett of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a sister, Mrs. Robert Letterman of Johnstown. Her mother had come to Carmel to be with Mrs. Acheson during her illness.

Funeral services were conducted from the Old Mission Tuesday morning at 9:30, with burial in the Catholic cemetery.

ORCHESTRA HAS SEVERAL NEW MEMBERS IN RANKS

Several new members have joined the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra and are getting in in time to play in the Children's Concert Friday evening, December 15.

It had been hoped to give a matinee performance but it appeared impossible to get the performers together during the day time at that season.

Increased attendance at the Sunday night rehearsals indicate that the orchestra is getting its program well in hand so that it is most enjoyable to listen to.

Miss Austin has also begun rehearsals for her ballet to be given in connection with the children's program. It is taken from "The Night Before Christmas," and music from Hansel and Gretel will accompany it.

School Board Meets; No Bond Election

There will be no bond election for funds at present to make Sunset school shock-proof during an earthquake. Such was the decision reached by the trustees of Sunset school at their meeting Tuesday night.

The decision was brought about through the results of a questionnaire sent to all parents having pupils in the school. Of those expressing themselves not quite two thirds were in favor of voting bonds.

The gymnasium was allotted to the different organizations for their different evenings, according to their petitions.

It was decided to purchase 45 copies of History of American Civilization, by Harold Rugg, to be used in the good citizenship study class of the eighth grade.

It was moved and seconded that specifications be secured for the construction of a wall along Mission. For this, practically everything but the cement has been donated.

NEW LOCATION TEA ROOM BRINGS BACK EARLY DAYS

The new location of the Russian Tea Room next door to the public library recalls to the minds of many old timers Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hand who were of the early pioneers.

Mr. Hand had a real estate office on the corner and Mrs. Hand had a small shop, next to his office. The first shop in Carmel, as this is incorrect, please see the printer.

Anyway all are agreed that the Hand offices were the principal get-together places of the little village at that time.

Mr. Hand's office was the only headquarters for laundry, which he shipped out, the citizens not being blessed then with a service such as afforded now by our own Carmel Laundry.

Mr. Hand was prominently identified with the early days of the Forest Theater and himself played such parts as the lead in "The Man From Home," by Harry Leon Wilson and Booth Tarkington.

Aside from the Carmel Development Company, Mr. Hand had the first real estate office.

All these things are being recalled by the old timers who have been dropping in to the Russian Tea Room this week to help Col. and Mrs. Jadovsky celebrate their moving to this historical spot.

The Tea shop makes the place a splash of color and history repeats itself in making it a rendezvous for friends.

Carmel Barbers Go Back To Old Prices

The list of old prices may now be seen in the windows of Carmel barber shops and the men of the city have a more sleek appearance. Some of the women who had decided on long tresses have again changed their minds.

The barbers of the peninsula met together and decided on the following uniform prices: Hair cuts 50 cents; neck clips, 40 cents; shaves, 25 cents.

Further provisions set forth are that all shops will open at 8 a.m. and close at 6 p.m., except Saturdays and days preceding holidays when they will close at 7 p.m. All shops will be closed all day Sundays and holidays, as designated in the state code, and it is stipulated that shop owners and employees are entitled to work 48 hours a week.

Mrs. W. H. Williams and Mary Williams have just returned from a six months' vacation, visiting friends and relatives in New York and Chicago. While in Chicago they visited the World's Fair.

Its Concert Here

Arouses Interest

The coming of Michio Ito, one of the most uniquely interesting figures in the dance world, is being keenly anticipated. He brings with him a company of well-known dance soloists and his appearance is scheduled for this Saturday, November eleventh, at Carmel Community Playhouse.

An artist of amazing originality, Ito has won the interest of many famous musicians and dancers. Charles Griffes was so impressed with his dance genius that he arranged his "White Peacock" for Ito's use, and himself accompanied him at its first presentation. At the Griffes Memorial concert in New York a few years ago, Ito was one of the participants and appeared in three dance numbers arranged for him by the great American composer.

"Only Ito," wrote Nicholas Murray, noted dance critic, "can present such authentic blending of beauty—he is without a peer, knowing his material as no one else—adapting the Oriental with the Occidental."

Lillian Powell, originator of the "Dance-Dances," which created such a furore in New York a few years ago, and more recently in Hollywood, comes as premiere danseuse with the Michio Ito company. Miss Powell has been a featured dancer with the Ziegfeld productions in New York, and was for four years solo dancer with the Denishawn Dancers on their tours of both this country and the Orient.

A number in which she has also won fame is her modernistic interpretation of Lou Alter's "Manhattan Serenade." Danced to orthophonic accompaniment it shows how classical jazz can be interpreted through the medium of the dance without losing any of its lyrical or dramatic quality. It is included on the coming Ito program.

Miss Evelyn Arne Is Given Surprise Shower

Miss Evelyn Arne who is to be married to Lynn Frisbee of San Francisco December 31, was the guest of honor at a surprise miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. Harry Hilbert on Lincoln Street last evening, with Miss Florence Edler as hostess.

Bridge was the order of the evening, high score being made by Miss Marian Minges and low by Miss Lillian Carroll. Guests were: Miss Evelyn Arne, Miss Myrtle Arne, Mrs. Harry Hilbert, Miss Marian Minges, Mrs. Arthur Hilbert, Mrs. Frances Bell, Mrs. Ted McKay, Mrs. Lawrence Melrose, Miss Lillian Carroll, Miss Ida Burge, Mrs. Lois Bratt, and Miss Mary Douglas.

Miss Arne is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Arne and for three years had worked in San Francisco until coming home to care for her mother who has been ill this summer. She has hosts of friends here.

Mr. Frisbee is a young San Francisco business man and has made many friends among the young people during his visits here.

The wedding will take place in Stanford chapel and they will make their home in San Francisco.

The boy scouts of Carmel are busy this week preparing to act as hosts to the scouts of the Peninsula at the court of honor to be held at Sunset School Friday night at 8 o'clock.

NEW ECONOMICS GROUP WILL PRESENT SPEAKER

The Carmel new economics study groups are probably unique in that they are not disciples of any one leader nor pledged to any one belief or doctrine. They are very much in the form of fact-finding committees in that they are interested in learning the truth and nothing but the truth.

To this end they are studying ideas as set forth by various writers and speakers. Dr. Thomas Addis of San Francisco has spoken twice in Carmel to these groups and on Sunday afternoon November 12, W. A. Strompen of San Francisco will speak at the Girl Scout House, his subject being "A Businessman Looks at Social Credit."

The general plan of study undertaken by several of the groups is first; what were the causes that led to the building of the present financial and economic structure. Second; what conditions are necessary for the present system to operate successfully. Third; what are the reasons the present system is not functioning now. Fourth; what changes are necessary in the present system to adapt it to present conditions.

The public is invited to hear and opportunity will be given to those who wish to ask questions about his topic after the talk. There is no charge for admission.

SIDNEY FISH INHERITS

FROM AUNT'S ESTATE

Sidney Fish, according to announcements which came over the radio, was named heir to one third of the estate left by his aunt, Mrs. Thelma Anthon Callender of New York. He shares with Marion Fish Gray of Newport and Stuyvesant Fish, Jr., of New York.

MAYOR CATLIN TO FORE WITH LIQUOR RECIPES

Mayor Catlin's picture has peered out from several of the city papers the past week with his announcement of a liquor mixing contest. Here is the mayor's own recipe:

"Five fingers of bourbon whiskey in a glass, then in another glass a few drops of grenadine, half spoon bar sugar, juice of half a lime. Mix well. Pour contents of second glass on floor. Then drink contents of first glass."

PETE RAMIREZ GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE

On complaint of neighbors that he was disturbing their peace, Pete Ramirez, of Santa Rita and Fourth, was taken before Judge Wood, charged with being drunk and disorderly.

Ramirez gave as an excuse that they had had a christening at their house the previous day.

Judge Wood sentenced the defendant to ten days in jail, with sentence suspended on good behavior.

Play Reading Group Growing in Numbers

The number attending the play readings in Pine Inn each Monday night is growing very rapidly. Starting with just a few, the membership has increased to 65, and still more are planning to join in.

This is a real community affair, since anyone who is at all interested is urged to join in, and all those who will read, will be given parts some time during the winter.

"The Devil's Disciple," by Bernard Shaw, was greatly enjoyed this week, the parts being taken by George McMenamin, Rev. Mr. Petrie, John Catlin, Philip Walker, Frank Heffling, Rosalyn Jones, Sybil Leonard, Odine Houser, John Todd and Tom Thibodeau. Jack Graham read the stage directions.

"Caught Wet," by Rachel Crothers, in honor of the new order of things, will be read next Monday night at 8 o'clock. Those who will read will please leave their names at the meeting.

WEARING TWO HATS BUT WASN'T DRUNK

Charged with being drunk and disorderly, two soldiers were taken before Judge Wood Monday morning.

The boys, who had been taken into custody Sunday morning at 1:30 were found at Carpenter and Ocean by a bon fire they had built. One was sleeping and the other was racing up and down the walk with two hats on.

Since the men denied being drunk, the charge was changed to building a bonfire in the city limits without permission and a fine of $10 assessed. They were released in custody of their officer on promise to pay the fine.

Home Cooked Food Shop Denies Rumors

Probably due to the fact that the Woman's Exchange may not function this winter, a report was spread that the Betsy Ann Food Shop intended to close.

Mrs. Stone and Brown wish to deny through the columns of Carmel Sun that such is their intention.

"Our business is good we are pleased with our new location, and we have not even given closing a thought," said the proprietors.

Therefore, you will find the Betsy Ann Food Shop at the same old stand on Dolores street, serving delicious luncheons and selling delicious home made foods to take out.

TODAY LAST OPPORTUNITY TO REGISTER FOR VOTING

Registration for the statewide special bond election on the proposed $170,000,000 Central Valley Water project will close today. Those who did not vote at any general election last year or this, or who have moved into a new precinct since registering must register again in order to vote. The election will be held December 19.

Edward Weston Exhibits Natural-Pose Pictures

If there was ever a photographer who apparently can make his subjects forget that "I am having my picture taken" feeling, it is Edward Weston, exhibiting his unretouched portraits at the Denny-Watrous this week.

Weston has pictures of celebrities, and of just home folks, but none can surpass his pictures of the tiny tots.

What power does he hold that he can get a child to pose, or rather sit or stand, without posing, so that they appear absolutely unconscious of the camera?

Little Jolita Coughlin with one front tooth missing absolutely forgot her defect in the sheer joy of living. Esther Van Niel was another who forgot to pose.

Then there are Robinson Jeffers, Mischa Elman, Jean Chariot and several other famous people, all of whom lent themselves to the artistry of Edward Weston.

P.T. A. Will Meet; Plan To Help Needy

The P.T. A. meeting for November will be held this Thursday evening in the New Auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. Immediately after the brief business meeting, the following program will be given by Sunset school pupils:

A Dancing Song Swabian
Boating Song Croatian
Hedge Rone Schubert
Gossack's Lullaby Bachmeister

The Vision of Sir Launfal by James Russell Lowell
Prologue and Six Scenes
Launfal Dick Tevis
His Servants Houston Handon, Doris Crossman, Paul Nye, Peggy Clough.

Beggar Billy Wheeler
A Gateman Freer Gottfried
An Old Man Markham Johnston
Passersby Tommy Phillips,
Warren Jimenez.

Dwellers in China Geraldine Kerner, Patricia Thompson, Merle Dorsett.
Dwellers in India Ethel Warrington.

At the close of the program there will be a social hour in the old auditorium for which it is hoped everyone will remain. Miss Berry has graciously promised a display of some of the outstanding new books for children in anticipation of Children's Book Week, Nov. 13-18. An invitation is extended to all parents to visit the library that week and to examine the whole collection of new children's books soon to be released for circulation.

The P.T. A. has assumed responsibility of providing clothing for those school children who need it. Whatever you have that you can pass on please give to Mrs. Twombly, chairman of the social welfare committee. If you prefer to make your contribution in money, any amount will be accepted with gratitude. At present there is great need of shoes. Increased membership will help this fund.

Mr. Bolton is endeavoring to secure such films for showing on Saturday afternoons at the Carmel Theater as will meet the approval of parents. It is to be hoped that parents will support Mr. Bolton's commendable efforts.

MUSICAL ARTS CLUB WILL HONOR SEARCH

Frederick Preston Search will be honored through the Musical Arts Club of Monterey Peninsula Thursday night, November 23, when they will sponsor a concert given by him at the officers' club at the presidio.

Mr. Search was one of the founders of the club, as well as its first president. He is well known and appreciated in Carmel.

More than fifty persons coming from Tortilla Flats and Carmel Valley, descendants of the Old Mission Indians were guests of honor Sunday at the Old Mission at the annual fiesta in honor of San Carlos Borromeo.

There was special music in honor of San Carlos and a special sermon in Spanish was given. After the solemn benediction and Blessed Sacrament, at which officiated Father O'Connell, resident pastor; Father Bacquedano, deacon and Father Moraban, sub-deacon, the honor guests were entertained at dinner at Serra Crespi Hall.

Next year will be the 150th anniversary of Carmel Mission and a sesqui-centennial celebration will be held here, according to Father O'Connell.

With the making of the Carmel Mission an independent church two weeks ago for the first time in more than one hundred years, and with the coming of a resident pastor, Father O'Connell from Lemoore, social affairs at the church have taken on new life. Many plans are being made for parties and dances to be held in the near future. An old fashioned dance will be the next thing on the program.

Pedro Lopez, infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Ramirez, was baptized at the Sunday services. The child was a descendant of one of the first Indians baptized in the Mission.

The second funeral that had been held in the Mission since the time of the padres was conducted Tuesday morning. Father O'Connell wore the identical cope worn by Father Serra, and also used the same chalice which Father Serra used. These things were brought to Monterey in 1777 as a gift from the Viceroy of Mexico to Father Serra.

"I LOVE CARMEL," SAYS ANNE HARDING, VISITOR

"I love Carmel," said Anne Harding Monday when cornered by a group of young people who were begging her autograph.

Carmel people also love Anne Harding, appreciating very much her friendliness and sincerity.

The Cagneys and Miss Harding having arrived almost simultaneously, are all causing many fluttering hearts among the citizenry.

Republicans Enjoy

Barbecue And Talks

More than one hundred Republicans gathered at Indian Village Sunday representing the different coast towns which recently organized for this section, and enjoyed a fine barbecue and some excellent speeches.

Editor Knowland of the Oakland Tribune was the principal speaker, and among other things enlightened his hearers on just what the licensing of newspapers would do toward abolishing freedom of the press.

The speaker urged all Republicans to stand by the administration but also to be ready to take means to protect the country should the need arise.

Rehearsals of the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra for the Children's concert to be given on December 15 are going steadily on under the direction of Michel Penha.

The State Board of Health has granted permission for the construction of Monterey's proposed $86,000 outfall sewer project. An application for a $25,000 public works fund grant from the Federal government was immediately made. Should the project be carried out it will furnish work to from 40 to 60 men.

PISTOL CLUB HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Tuesday evening the Carmel Pistol Club held their regular monthly business meeting in their club rooms in the basement of the Williams Building on Dolores street. Robert A. Norton of Carmel and L. Doyle Birchfield of Carmel Valley were accepted as active members and Miss Eleanor Polly Bosworth of Carmel as an associate member.

In the course of the meeting the club gratefully accepted two paintings from William P. Silva which will be presented to the winners of a slow fire pistol match which will be held next Sunday. Mr. Silva one of the real artists of Carmel is very much interested in the work of the club of which he is an active and prominent member. At the same time Mr. C. H. Upson, a visitor in Carmel where he is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Ball, after a short address in which he said that he had been impressed by the enthusiasm shown by the personnel of the club donated a trophy consisting of a silver cream and sugar set.

During the routine business a postal match with the El Hot Bay Revolver Club of Seattle, Washington was scheduled to take place at the end of the month and prizes won during the month of October were given out. Jim Williams and Charles Guth were the winners of a timed fire match and a slow fire match was won by Williams and Bill Wilson. The only remaining monthly handicap cup was won by Haskell Warren and it was announced that the first and second place monthly handicap cups after being held temporarily by several different members for the past eleven months had finally been taken out of circulation by David S. Ball and George L. Wood Jr.

John Jordan has let the secret out. The way he knows of how to get money is to go in the government service. I was one of the crowd that rushed in to find out his secret and got him to talking of saloon days—then and now. "It used to be that women were afraid to go out on account of drunk men, but now the men will be afraid on account of women."

Little Sally Sweetlove Hodgins of Alameda was much taken with a little doll at the Jasmine Bush Tuesday. "I want to take it to my daddy," she insisted. Sally is two years old now, but what a mind she'll have as she grows up!

Carmel has had a lot of gorgeous weather this fall to share with those less fortunate.

OPERA STAR, MYRTLE LEONARD, IN GALLERY SATURDAY NIGHT

Myrtle Leonard's recital in the Denny-Watrous gallery this Saturday evening November 11, is being much looked forward to by lovers of the contralto voice. Toscanini, the celebrated Italian conductor, had many voices to choose from in New York City when he chose Myrtle Leonard to sing the contralto role of Resplighi's opera, "Mary in Egypt" when it had its premiere performance with the New York Philharmonic in Carnegie Hall.

Everywhere the verdict has been the same—that Myrtle Leonard has a most luscious, vibrant contralto—the voice that Schumann Heink calls "the other contralto." Her recent recital in the Veterans' War Memorial Auditorium in San Francisco was a great success, as Marie Hicks Davidson wrote in the San Francisco Call: "Myrtle Leonard, contralto of the San Francisco Opera Company, gave to music lovers a foretaste of the splendor of voice with which she will sing in 'The Emperor Jones,' 'La Forza del Destino,' and other operas of the forthcoming season."

Miss Leonard's program for Saturday night contains lieder and operatic arias. It is as follows:

Haydn Spirit Song
Hugo Wolf Uber Nacht
Hugo Wolf Mausfallen-
Spruchlein
Brahms Sapphic Ode
Richard Strauss Zueignung
Tremasot Novembre
Ferrari Le Miroir

JACK DEMPSEY WILL REFEREE AT SALINAS

You can always count on Big Mitch giving the crowd a run for their money.

On November 15 in addition to one of the best cards of the year Big Mitch is bringing Jack Dempsey, ex-heavyweight champ, to Salinas for the fans to look over.

Frank Dalton may fight on the card as he has won all his fights in Salinas and is getting to be a big favorite wherever he goes.

Rhys Williams Will Speak About Russia

Emerging from his nearly completed volume on the Soviet Union, Rhys Williams will give a public address at the Carmel Community Playhouse, Sunday evening, November 12, at 8 p.m. Williams, a graduate of Marietta College, studied in Cambridge and Freiburg Universities on a European fellowship. As a correspondent for "The Outlook" he accompanied the German army into Belgium where he was arrested by the Germans and imprisoned. He was saved from court martial through the intervention of Brand Whitlock.

After the downfall of the Tsar, he was one of the first American journalists in Russia. He was in the vortex of the revolution—storming of the winter palace; meeting Lenin when he first proclaimed the Soviets as the government of Russia; arriving in Vladivostok at the time of the overthrow of the Soviets by the armies of intervention. This story he has told in "Through the Russian Revolution," a book which has been translated into many languages.

Returning to America Williams wrote a pamphlet outlining 76 questions and answers on the Soviets which reached a circulation of more than a million copies. There followed other books, among them "The Russian Land" about which Paxton Hibben says: "Out of Williams' book Tolstoy could fashion a dozen volumes to cap 'War and Peace' or a Pushkin create a thundering epic. But Williams has not tried to do either. He has succeeded in etching little vignettes of life uprooted but striking newer and younger roots into the soil of spirits reborn in travail and bewilderment but inextinguishable."

Williams does not confine himself to revolution. He likes to tell of his friends Kalenin, Litvinov and Gorky—of the days of reconstruction and the period when careerists, bandits and adventurers were driven out of the Soviets; of the Russian leaders passing from methods of command to those of persuasion; of how the Soviets became more sensitive to the wishes of the 189 million people of Russia.

And so, for the first time Carmel is to hear Williams speak in his objective way of his adventures in the forests or Archangel with Volga boatmen, with five-year collectives and Kazan Tartars—and will talk comprehensively about the questions and answers covering every phase of activity, institutions, theory, customs—questions that Litvinov and Washington are discussing. Allen Griffin will be chairman.

FRANK DALTON DEFEATS GEORGE WASHINGTON

Frank Dalton, 144 pounds, of Carmel defeated George Washington, 155, of Fresno, last Friday night at Salinas.

Washington was a hard-hitting negro and up to the time he met the Carmel welterweight he had not dropped a fight. Dalton dropped him for the count of nine two times during the fight, and all during the fight hit the negro at will.

The balance of the card was good and the Carmel fight fans that made the trip to see Frank fight were well satisfied with the program. Big Mitch never puts on a poor card.
